FP CANADA CE APPROVAL PROGRAM

The FP Canada CE Approval Program allows CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER® professionals and QUALIFIED ASSOCIATE FINANCIAL PLANNER™ professionals (FP Canada Certificants) to easily locate Continuing Education (CE) activities that will qualify for FP Canada’s CE requirements.

Over 18,000 CFP® professionals and QAFP™ professionals seek out CE activities that meet FP Canada’s requirements for continued certification, maintain their professional competence as professional planners and keep them abreast of the changing financial landscape. CFP professionals are required to complete 25 CE credits every year and QAFP professionals must complete 12 CE credits annually – a total of nearly 450,000 CE credits sought each and every year. The FP Canada CE Approval Program is your opportunity to have your CE activities assessed for qualifying credits and for your organization to proactively promote these activities to this engaged audience.

FP Canada has also been recognized by the Mutual Fund Dealers Association of Canada (MFDA) as a Third-Party Accreditor. Accordingly, FP Canada is authorized to review CE programs and determine whether the content of those CE activities meets the related minimum standards set out under Part C of MFDA Policy No.9.

Registered CE providers reach FP Canada certificants quickly, efficiently and cost-effectively through use of the FP Canada-Approved CE Search Tool, available at fpcanada.ca.

General Overview

FP Canada

A national professional body working in the public interest, FP Canada™ (formerly known as Financial Planning Standards Council) is dedicated to fostering better financial health for Canadians by leading the advancement of professional financial planning in Canada. There are approximately 19,000 professional financial planners in Canada who have met, and continue to meet, FP Canada's standards.

CFP Professionals

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER certification is the most widely recognized financial planning designation in Canada and throughout the world and is considered the standard for the financial planning profession. CFP professionals have demonstrated the knowledge, skills, experience and ethics to provide holistic financial planning strategies and solutions at the highest level of complexity required of the profession, and work with their clients to build a financial plan so that they can Live Life Confidently™. CFP professionals in Canada are certified by FP Canada, a national professional body working in the public interest. There are approximately 17,000 CFP professionals across Canada, part of an international network of more than 175,000 in 26 territories around the world.

QAFP Professionals

QUALIFIED ASSOCIATE FINANCIAL PLANNER certification demonstrates a financial planner's competence and commitment to the highest ethical standards of responsibility. QAFP professionals have demonstrated the knowledge, skills, experience and ethics to provide holistic financial planning strategies and solutions for clients who have financial planning needs with a limited level of complexity.

The QAFP designation presents an appealing certification option for financial planners wishing to serve a broad market, or for those wishing to gain recognition of their professionalism along the path to CFP certification. QAFP professionals play an important role in helping average Canadians with their everyday financial planning needs.

Annual CE Requirements

To ensure that their knowledge and competence remains current and continues to expand, both CFP professionals and QAFP professionals are required to complete CE activities each year.

CE credits must be accumulated on a calendar year basis, from January 1 to December 31.

A portion of CFP professionals and QAFP professionals are randomly selected for audit each year and are required to provide official documentation of their CE activities.

CE Requirements

Qualifying CE

For a full overview of FP Canada's CE requirements, please refer to the FP Canada website.

Qualifying CE falls under the following five categories:

1. Financial Planning
2. Professional Responsibility
3. Practice Management
4. Product Knowledge
5. Giving Back

Please see Appendix A for detailed descriptions of each CE category.

Within the above categories, CE activities may include (but are not limited to) seminars, conferences, webinars, in-house training, online courses with an exam, credit courses, prep courses, and courses for allied financial services professional licensing and/or designation.

In general, one hour of qualifying activity is equal to one CE credit. A full day of education activity may qualify for a maximum of eight CE credits.

CE activities can be delivered through two different methods:

In-Person

The instructor, speaker or discussion leader and students are engaged in the educational program at the same time. In-person activities may include seminars, webinars, conference sessions, panel discussions, structured discussion groups, and college or university courses. A live activity is delivered by an instructor, speaker or discussion leader qualified to speak on the specific subject area(s) and must include evidence of satisfactory completion by the FP Canada certificant. This evidence would include either the provider's confirmation of the individual's participation or an examination scored by the CE provider where the participant has demonstrated his or her comprehension of the course content.

Online

The student engages in the learning activity without an instructor. A self-directed course is developed by an instructor qualified to teach in the specific subject area(s) and must include evidence of satisfactory completion by the FP Canada certificant. This evidence would include either the provider's confirmation of the individual's participation or an examination scored by the CE provider where the participant has demonstrated his or her comprehension of the course content.

To be considered qualified, FP Canada recommends that the instructor, speaker or discussion leader have a professional credential in a relevant field and/or related work experience.

When requested by FP Canada, the organization providing CE must verify attendance or completion of the activity by a specific FP Canada certificant.

Application Process

Become a CE Provider

Your organization's first step is to create an online account through the FP Canada Portal. You will need to provide your organization's name, logo, address, website address and contact information. You will also create a password to access your account in the future.

Once the registration process is complete, you will receive a CE Provider ID number. Use this and your unique password to access your FP Canada Portal.

Please see Appendix B for a step-by-step outline of the application process.

Submit an Activity

Once you have registered an account with FP Canada, you may submit your activities via your FP Canada Portal.

Please note: The information you provide in your application will be used to populate the FP Canada-Approved CE Search Tool that appears on FP Canada's public website. We recommend that you include all relevant details to effectively market your CE activities to potential participants and review your information for accuracy before submitting.

You must provide the following information about each CE activity:

- Title
- Delivery method (In-Person, Online)
- Level of difficulty (Fundamental, Intermediate or Advanced)
- Learning format (Conference, Credit Course, In-House Training, Prep Course, Self Study Course, Seminar or Webinar)
- Description of content
- CE categories covered (see Appendix A for a list of category definitions)
- Credit hours
- Start and end date (or an indication that the activity is continuously available)
- Location
- Language
- Registration fee
- Supporting materials, which may include an agenda, presentation, outline, handouts, storyboard, video or any other supporting materials that demonstrate or describe the content being covered. These materials will be used to evaluate your activity/activities and will not be displayed publicly. For online courses, we may also request direct online course access.

You may also provide a website link where people can register for or purchase your CE activity.

To have your program accredited against MFDA CE guidelines at no additional cost to the current fee, complete the "MFDA CE Credit Categories (Optional)" tab in Section 3.

New CE requirements for all MFDA Approved Persons come into effect on December 1, 2021. Each CE activity must be accredited by Accreditors recognized by the MFDA in order to count towards the fulfilment of the new CE requirements.

CE Activity Review Process

FP Canada will review your application to ensure that the submitted CE activity relates to an appropriate CE category as defined in Appendix A. This review will typically be completed within 15 business days of receiving the application. A decision will be sent to you via email (and will be reflected on your FP Canada Portal). You will be notified of any delay in the process.

FP Canada will indicate the credit category and number of credits for which your CE activity qualifies, based on the assessment of the materials submitted. This assessment may be more, less or the same number of credits as you estimated in your application.

An approved CE activity is valid for two years, unless there is a material change to the activity. Upon expiry or in the event of a material change to the activity, FP Canada requires that the CE activity be resubmitted for approval.

A material change is considered to have occurred when:

- one or more of the CE categories identified on your application is no longer covered;
- one or more of the financial planning areas identified on your application is no longer covered;
- the duration of the activity has changed; or
- the format or delivery method of the activity has changed.

To maintain the integrity of the program, FP Canada may audit approved CE activities. This process could include site visits or require submission of additional documentation to confirm ongoing compliance with FP Canada's requirements.

The FP Canada Portal is your source for all information regarding the status of an application for CE activity approval and where you may modify or add activities, view your payment history and edit your organization's information.

Please note that the CE activity review process will begin once payment has been received.

Fee Schedule

Category	Fee Amount	Duration
CE Credit Approval Fee	$70/credit hour plus tax*	Valid for 2 years unless there is a material change to the CE activity

* 5% GST in AB, BC, MB, NT, NU, QC, SK, YT; 13% HST in ON; 15% HST in NB, NL, NS, PEI

The CE credit approval fee is based on the number of credits being submitted for an activity. For example, if you apply for a CE activity you have estimated as qualifying for 7 credits, the cost will be 7 credits @ $70 each, or $490.

If you have questions about calculating the CE Credit Approval fee, contact Hellen Kountouros at hkountouros@fpCanada.ca.

Payment

Payments can be made online by Visa or Mastercard at the time of application, or by cheque by selecting the invoice option when an activity is submitted for review. All cheques must be made payable within 30 days of the invoice date to “FP Canada” and mailed to:

FP Canada
Attention: FP Canada CE Approval Program
902-375 University Avenue
Toronto, Ontario M5G 2J5

If FP Canada is unable to approve a submitted CE activity, we will reimburse all but one credit hour ($70). If your activity is approved for fewer credits than requested on your application, FP Canada will refund the difference in fees.

Decision Review Policy

FP Canada will grant the number of credits for a CE activity based on our assessment of the application and supporting materials. The number of credits awarded may vary from the number of credits that were estimated in your application.

If you disagree with our decision, you may submit a request in writing, to have your application re-reviewed, along with any new supporting materials, within two weeks of receiving the initial decision. Upon receiving such a request, we will conduct a second review of the activity and inform you of our decision by email within five business days.

If you are still unsatisfied with FP Canada’s decision, you may file an appeal. Your complaint will be escalated through our complaints handling process, which includes an external ombudsperson.

Renewal Process

CE activities expire after two years, or earlier if there is a material change to the activity.

To renew a CE activity, log in to your FP Canada Portal and re-submit an application for approval, along with the appropriate CE credit approval fee.

Required Disclaimer

CE providers must include the following disclaimer in written or verbal form at the beginning of any FP Canada-Approved CE Activity:

This CE activity has been approved by FP Canada as meeting the minimum requirements for CE Approval as outlined within the CFP Certification Policies and QAFP Certification Policies. The views and opinions expressed in this presentation are those of the presenter / content author and do not necessarily reflect the views of FP Canada.

Advertising and Trademark Rights and Use

FP Canada requires that CE providers follow the rules below when using the FP Canada CE Credit logo, FP Canada marks, CFP marks and QAFP marks on all materials (e.g. completion certificates, websites, advertisements, and other printed materials). If you have questions about how to use any of the marks, contact the FP Canada Stakeholder Support Team at info@fpcanada.ca.

CE providers who wish to use the CFP marks and QAFP marks must follow the rules described in the CFP Marks Usage Guide and QAFP Marks Usage Guide.

Requirements for Referring to the FP Canada CE Approval Program

CE providers should refrain from promoting their organization as “registered with” or “approved by” FP Canada, as FP Canada cannot account for or endorse an organization's entire CE program—only those activities that are submitted and approved.

When promoting or advertising an FP Canada-Approved CE Activity, CE providers may reference only the activities that have been approved through the FP Canada CE Approval Program.

In such instances, all references to the FP Canada CE Approval Program, including the use of any marks or logos, must be removed from all websites, communications and other materials, FP Canada is released from all obligations and liabilities, any outstanding fees must be paid to FP Canada, and no reimbursement will be granted.

Appendix A: CE Credit Category Definitions

1. Financial Planning

Qualifying CE must be related to one or more aspects of the FP Canada Standards Council Competency Profile, the foundation of certification requirements for CFP certification and QAFP certification. CE in this category may relate to one or more of the following financial planning areas, professional skills or technical knowledge:

Financial Management

The assessment of a client's cash flow, budget and net worth and the development of strategies and techniques to optimize short- and mid-term saving, spending and borrowing decisions to meet the client's goals.

Investment Planning

The assessment of a client's asset mix and holdings, based on investment knowledge, objectives, risk tolerance and time horizon, and the development of strategies and techniques to optimize the client's portfolio and resulting return to meet the client's financial goals.

Insurance and Risk Management

Strategies and techniques to manage risk exposure to potential financial loss due to personal circumstances. In this financial planning area, the terms "risk", "risk exposure" and "risk tolerance" refer to the risk of financial loss due to personal circumstances, as opposed to investment risk.

Tax Planning

The assessment of a client's current tax position, and the development of strategies and techniques to minimize or defer taxes and maximize the client's after-tax income.

Retirement Planning

The assessment of a client's expected lifestyle in retirement, comparison of estimated needs to current retirement assets, planned savings and expected return on investment, and the development of strategies and techniques to bridge any gaps. It also involves the assessment of retirement income options and the development of strategies and techniques to meet the client's income needs.

Estate Planning (including Legal Aspects)

The assessment of a client's estate wishes and development of strategies and techniques to help ensure the payment of expenses and obligations at death; also, the efficient transfer of assets to beneficiaries based on the client's goals.

Professional Skills

Professional skills—including skills categorized under ‘Communication’ and ‘Cognitive Abilities and Judgment’—are inherent in the fulfillment of each and every financial planning function and competency with each and every client. CFP professionals and QAFP professionals could be applying several of the professional skills throughout any given client engagement. They represent the fundamental abilities that define a true professional.

2. Professional Responsibility

The Professional Responsibility requirement is designed to support and enhance your understanding of your professional duties and to provide approaches for identifying and addressing common ethical dilemmas and challenges that you may face. Qualifying CE requires practical application of the principles and rules in the FP Canada Standards Council Standards of Professional Responsibility to ethical dilemmas that financial planners commonly encounter. CE should include the use of scenarios and/or practical examples to illustrate the situations. CE activities that focus on direct knowledge or rote recall of the Standards of Professional Responsibility without demonstrated understanding and application will not qualify.

Qualifying CE must:

- be developed and taught by individuals who possess the CFP credential or who possess related work experience and familiarity with the FP Canada Standards Council Standards of Professional Responsibility and their application;
- be application-based (commonly delivered by such means as discussion, debate, storytelling, case studies and role-plays, as examples) and in the case of self-study courses, include an assessment asking students to specifically apply rules and principles;
- include specific application of the FP Canada Standards Council Code of Ethics and FP Canada Standards Council Rules of Conduct at a minimum, but may also include application of the FP Canada Standards Council Fitness Standards and FP Canada Standards Council Financial Planning Practice Standards and associated guidance; and
- correctly apply the FP Canada Standards Council Standards of Professional Responsibility to examples or scenarios of ethical dilemmas faced in the practice of financial planning.

CE activity submissions that focus only on direct knowledge or rote memorization of the FP Canada Standards Council Standards of Professional Responsibility, without application or demonstrated understanding, will not qualify.

Examples of Qualifying CE:

- In-person workshop where participants consider ethical dilemmas that financial planners may encounter and how the FP Canada Standards Council Standards of Professional Responsibility may apply.

- Online, self-directed course where learners are asked to consider ethical dilemmas that financial planners may encounter and are asked to contemplate, through interactive online activities or assessment, how the FP Canada Standards Council Standards of Professional Responsibility may apply.

Examples of Non-Qualifying CE:

- In-person workshop that provides an update on the regulatory environment and outlines mutual fund and securities regulation for advisors but does not apply the Standards of Professional Responsibility to examples or scenarios of ethical dilemmas.
- Online, self-directed course that presents the Standards of Professional Responsibility but does not include a discussion regarding the application of the principles or rules to ethical dilemmas that financial planners may encounter.

3. Practice Management

Qualifying CE includes the knowledge and skills used in building professional relationships and growing a professional practice. CE in this category may include activities focused on prospecting skills; business development behaviors, actions and/or processes; business planning skills; networking skills; or sales skills.

4. Product Knowledge

Qualifying CE includes the product knowledge that may be used to advise on and sell products or comment on products held by clients. CE in this category may be focused on any financial planning product including investment, insurance or debt. Ideally, CE should present a balanced view of the product, including features and benefits as well as client suitability, risks and costs. The content of CE should help CFP professionals and QAFP professionals make product recommendations based on the fit of the product with the client's situation, rather than on the product's returns, which they do not control.

5. Giving Back

Qualifying CE includes volunteering with: FP Canada, community organizations, industry associations, and charitable groups, in a way that helps Canadians understand the importance of financial planning and/or enhances their financial well-being. CE in this category may include involvement in pro bono teaching or development of education programs, community involvement, development of published financial planning research, or involvement in financial planning-related committees, task forces, or focus groups.
